

Broadcast starts here. Join our team!

Are you looking for a professional challenge within the media industry? Do you want to develop creative ideas and design new things? To think independently and to rely on a strong and dynamic team? If you are striving for new and exciting opportunities, if you prefer variety over routine and if you have a gene for broadcast inside you – talk to us! Become part of our team. Personal development guaranteed!

As one of the leading system houses in the European and international broadcast business, we are constantly looking for new talents. At locations in Germany, France and the USA, we work as project developers and system architects for multimedia broadcast visions.

Senior Project Manager IT (f/m) – Location: Monheim am Rhein, Germany

As a woman or man with passion you are responsible to control highly innovative projects in the media sector. It is about the rollout of modern IT solution platforms for future-oriented workflows. You have a highly motivated team at your side. It is important to discover new potentials for the use of modern IT technology meeting the needs of our customers and to apply it. Know-how, creativity and efficiency are your motivation. Your enthusiasm for innovation strengthens our customer relationship and creates a long-term bond.

- This includes
- Creation of project plans (e.g. with Microsoft Project)
  - Leadership and management of project teams
  - Monitoring and controlling of current projects
  - Managing project meetings (preparation, implementation, follow-up)
  - Coordination and control of decentralized project teams
  - Presales support of the customers during conception phase
  - Execution of workflow and process analyzes at the customer
  - Support of the in-house team in handling customer requests
  - Documentation management

- Requirements
- Projectmanagement experience and / or
  - Certification to PMI, Prince 2 or otherwise (desirable)
  - Studies of communications engineering / IT / media technology or comparabe (desirable)
  - Experience with media information systems (ingest, production, playout, news, MAM,...)
  - Basic knowledge of IP-based streaming technologies
  - General practical experience with current IT technology
  - Language skills: English, German
  - Joy in independent and structured work

- Benefit from
- Freedom from restrictive requirements (such as graduation)
  - Motivated, dynamic teamplayers in a company with short decision paths
  - Permanent employment
  - Adequate payment with bonus system
  - Educational measures
  - Flexible and trust-based working hours
  - Perspective to work internationally

Passion, courage and lateral thinking are very popular with us. We have room for every talent. Please address your application to Christina Opitz (info@thummahr.de) and find your chance with us.